Richard Henry Lake, Insurance Man, Dies; Former Grenadian

Recognition Accorded For Untiring Interest In Patriotic Enterprises

Richard Henry Lake, prominent insurance man and member of an old Southern family, died at his residence at 1616 Peabody at 3:45 o'clock yesterday afternoon. He was 60.

Mr. Lake had been ill for more than a month, his condition becoming critical Tuesday.

Born Near Grenada

Born at Auvergne Plantation near Grenada, Miss., the son of Col. Richard Pinkney and Stella Hoffa Lake, he attended the old Millsaps Preparatory School at Jackson and later the Jones and Perry School here, and the University of Mississippi.

Completing his education, Mr. Lake began his business career under his father in the Equitable Life Assurance Society, becoming a member of the firm Jan. 1, 1907. He was one of the organizers of the Memphis Life Underwriters' Association and its president in 1912, and served in various other official capacities in the local association and the national organization.

When Colonel Lake died in 1921, R. H. Lake became general agent for the firm. Since 1933, he has restricted his activities as general agent to Memphis and Shelby county.

Active Civic Worker

Mr. Lake's success in business was equaled by the recognition accorded him for his untiring active interest in civic and patriotic enterprises and organizations. Although steeped in the traditions of the Old South through the part played by his family in the growth and decline of the Confederacy, Mr. Lake never allowed his aristocratic connections to daily contacts with others.

He fostered his and his family's pride in the South and the Nation by promoting the welfare of such organizations as the United Sons of the Confederate Veterans and the Sons of the Revolution, and in enlisting in the World War. At the war's outbreak, Mr. Lake devoted almost his full time to directing the enlistment of Memphis men in the first officers' training camp at Fort Oglethorpe, Ga. He was untiring and markedly patient in advising the applicants for the camp and turned his office over to the needs of handling the large number of men who daily flocked there for service.

Prior to the United States entry in the war, Mr. Lake had received training at Fort Oglethorpe. In 1917 he was commissioned a captain in the Signal Corps and transferred from Memphis to Washington.

After the war he was sent to Camp Kearney, Calif., as a member of the adjutant general's staff. He handled war risk insurance cases for the Government, remaining there until May, 1919, when he returned to Memphis.

Mr. Lake also was active in Y. M. C. A. and Red Cross work. He was a Thirty-second Degree Mason and a Shriner and a member of Sigma Chi Fraternity. He belonged to the Memphis Country Club and the Menasha Duck Club in Arkansas. Mr. Lake was a keen follower of sports but indulged only in hunting and fishing.

Clarkdale To Celebrate Annual Delta Staple Cotton Festival September 27-29

Clarkdale, Miss., Aug. 10—September 27-29, Clarkdale will celebrate its annual Delta Staple Cotton Festival. This being the anniversary, plans are being made to make this year's celebration the greatest in the history of the Cotton Festival.

The general theme of this year's Festival will be "Glamour in Cotton" proving that cotton can be worn with as much dignity as silks and satins. In the past ten years the aim of the Festival has been to stimulate the use of cotton in wearing apparel, scientific research, and cotton seed oil products.

An invitation has been extended to the City of Grenada to send one of its charming young ladies, as a Festival guest, who will be a Princess in the Royal Court, take part in the Beauty Pageant for the selection of the Delta Cotton Queen, and participate in all Festival Activities.

The club or organization in Grenada is asked to send the name of the young lady of their choice as soon as possible to Mrs. B. J. Marshall, Festival Director.

There is no financial responsibility in naming a Princess, as the out-of-town Princesses will ride the floats sponsored by the Clarkdale Merchants. The city of Clarkdale and the Delta Staple Cotton Festival will be host to the Princesses for the three days of the Festival, and the Mayors of the various towns and cities of the delta at a Mayor's Luncheon at noon, September 28.

H. J. Ray, Foreman of Grand Jury July Court Term Answers Board of Supervisors--Dares Board To Produce Evidence That Auditor's Report Untrue

(Editor's Note) The following statement concerns resolution passed by Grenada County Board of Supervisors at their regular August meeting. This resolution, which follows Mr. Ray's statement, is of record in the minutes of the Board.

Editor of Grenada Sentinel, Citizens of Grenada County: My attention has been called to the criticism of record, made by the Supervisors of Grenada County, of that part of the Grand Jury's report concerning them; inferring it was made mainly for political reasons and was uncalled for.

Now, as Foreman of this Grand Jury; I deem it my duty to state, that I never served with a more honest or fairer body of men, and ones more willing to do their sworn duty, without fear or favor, and a body that worked more harmoniously together.

There is nothing in this report that is not contained in the State Auditor's report, signed by him and filed with the Chancery Clerk. This is a public record and every citizen has a right to call for and read it and I think it the duty of every citizen to do so.

Why criticize the Grand Jury; if this Board wants to clear their skirts, why don't they deny the items mentioned in this Auditor's report and prove them false by their own records?

They criticize the Grand Jury for not naming any individual names or bringing indictments. They should thank the Grand Jury for being so lenient. And further, if they prefer indictments, it might not be too late for some Grand Jury to act, further or maybe better, the Bondsman could be given a copy of this report, and let them exonerate the Board with the State Auditor.

Personally, I like all members of the board and consider them my friends, but in view of the State Auditor's report, think they have gone a bit too far in this criticism of the Grand Jury.

The Board criticized the Grand Jury for not mentioning names; I am wondering why they were not so charitable as to mention the names of the Grand Jury who were playing politics.

The Grand Jury presented proof in their report with reference to the Board; I am wondering if this Board will have the proof to submit to the Grand Jury playing politics, when these twenty men and other citizens appear before them and demand it.

I dare the Board to go on record stating the items mentioned in the State Auditor's report to be untrue and that he falsified them.

Unless a changed attitude by the Board immediately, a copy of this resolution and this reply will be forwarded the Bondsman, the District Attorney and the Circuit Judge of this District.

If a judge will not protect his own Grand Jury, he might as well close the Court.

H. J. RAY.

BOARD'S RESOLUTION

Whereas, it has come to the attention of the members of the Board of Supervisors that the Grand Jury in its report to the Circuit Court criticized the Board, and that such criticism was based on the report of the State Auditor, Department, filed on the 16th day of July, 1938, and

Whereas, said auditor's report reflected only the legal opinion of the auditors who compiled the same, and in fact was not justified, at least as to the whole membership of the Board; and

Whereas, the Board feels that if there were any basis in fact and in law as to the matters and things in said auditor's report and said Grand Jury report, that said Grand Jury should have acted upon the same and returned indictments, and that their failure to do so and in lieu thereof filing such report is indicative and persuasive that such report was prompted by political propaganda and as such was not justified;

Therefore, be it resolved by the Board that it goes on record in protest against said report as being unfair and unwarranted and the papers of this county are requested to give publicity to this resolution to the same extent as they have to the report of the Grand Jury.

THE BOARD OF SUPERVISORS AND THE GRAND JURY (An Editorial)

The Board of Supervisors' resolution passed at the regular August session, protesting the action of the Grand Jury in criticizing the Board for practices it had followed in the purchase of certain materials as set out in the audit report of the State Auditing Department completed in June of last year, alleges that the action of the Grand Jury was prompted by political propaganda and as such was not justified.

We can state our opinion concerning the Board's resolution in few words by quoting from Voltaire: "I disapprove of what you say, but I will defend to the death your right to say it."

We do not think there was one iota of politics in the Grand Jury's criticism of the Board of Supervisors. They merely took the state auditor's report, and it is on file in the office of the Chancery Clerk, and directed attention to practices of the Board of Supervisors to which the auditor had taken exception. They even called upon the Board to immediately correct these practices, and then went on to say that if the Board does not correct these practices that the state tax collector be notified to bring proceedings under the law in the name of the county.

Paragraph two of the Board's resolution reads: "Whereas said auditor's report reflected only the legal opinion of the auditors who compiled same, and in fact was not justified, at least as to the whole membership of the Board; and,"

Paragraph two seems to infer that while the Board as a whole is not guilty, some of its members may be guilty of practices as set forth in the auditor's report.

While we are not one of those who consider everyone with whom we have a speaking acquaintance our friend, we feel that a majority of the members of the Board of Supervisors are our friends. We have checked the minutes of the Board for several months back and did not find one item wherein anyone would be justified in offering criticism of some members of the Board. But the auditor's report did not criticize every member of the Board. In fact, some members were highly commended. However, there have been expenditures which, we think, warrant criticism, and even though the attention of the Board was directed to such practices in the auditor's report, filed July 16, 1937, these practices have been followed since that time. We called attention to this fact in our editorial, "And It Still Goes On", in last week's issue of The Sentinel, from which we quote:

Interested In Leasing Grenada College Property

Would Operate As Non-Sectarian, Coeducational Institution

(Editor's Note) The following letter was received by The Sentinel since last publication: Nashville, Tenn., Aug. 3, 1938. The Grenada Sentinel, Grenada, Miss.

Dear Sir: I have just written the Mayor, the Rotary Club, and the Chamber of Commerce that I would be interested in opening the Grenada College provided some plans could be worked out whereby the plant could be leased.

I would operate the school as a non-sectarian, coeducational institution. Not only would it be operated as a Junior College but according to my plans, its standards could be raised to senior college status within a year or two. I have some successful experience in school and institutional work. I was a superintendent of schools of Tishomingo county, and city superintendent at Forest. For six years I was superintendent of the State Baptist Orphanage. Although I am a lay Baptist, the school would be strictly non-sectarian, though it would be Christian.

I would want a large board of leaders in community affairs as an advisory committee. I believe there is a distinct field for the development of the institution I have in mind. If you want to give some publicity to the matter, you are at liberty to do so. By the way, I am giving the following as references as to my ability and character: Dr. Otto Porter, pastor Centenary Methodist Church, McComb, Dr. W. T. Denman of the same town, Fred McDonnell, Superintendent of the Children's Home at Jackson, J. S. Vandiver, State Superintendent of Education, Duke Humphries, President, and Sam Hathorn, teacher, Mississippi State, Dr. J. B. George, State Teachers' College, Hattiesburg, Dr. D. M. Nelson. ## State Tax Commission In Seventh Year Under Ston

Consistent Adherence To a Policy of Non-Participation In Political Affairs

To Our Employees and the Public: After more than six years of consistent adherence to a policy of non-participation in political affairs, we are now resting our position merely to keep the record straight during the current Congressional primaries. One of our first announcements in this connection, was in the following words:

"To take sides in a political contest is to destroy public confidence in our impartiality and fairness. It engenders friction and taxpaying resistance, and thereby defeats the very principles upon which we are operating this department. The cooperation, confidence and goodwill of the taxpaying public are just as necessary to us as is customer goodwill to an industrial enterprise. It is necessary that the public should know and understand that we are operating a business institution—not a political machine."

During another campaign, we made the following announcement:

"Since the beginning of the present Tax Commission set-up, its operations have been upon a definitely non-political basis. This fact has been made known so clearly and unequivocally, both to the public and to our employees, as to leave no room for doubt as to our position. Whatever success we may have had in the administration of the tax laws for which we are responsible, has been due in large measure to public cooperation, based upon confidence in the soundness of this policy and in our sincerity and honesty of purpose in observing and enforcing it. We are as definitely determined today as we have been at any time in the past, to continue our operations upon a basis of entire separation of the public revenue from political and personal considerations.

"That we have been able to maintain this position is largely due to the fact that the members of the Commission have been just as exacting of themselves and of each other as they have been of their employees. It has also been (Please turn to page 4)

Since my article of last week the Senate on August 3rd passed the Homestead Exemption Bill by a vote of 32 to 13.

However, many amendments were made to the measure as passed by the House, the chief one, of course, being the highly controversial "ceiling" for exemption.

The Senate removed the ceiling of $5,000 passed by the House, and left "the sky the limit." The Senate also excluded municipalities from the Bill and so far as purely municipal purposes taxes are concerned, but included municipalities as far as school taxes are concerned. Another amendment by the Senate is a modification of the House bill in the matter of location of land. The Senate's modification brings the Bill in line with existing exemptions of homesteads, enacted in 1834, that lands upon which exemption is claimed, the tracts closest to the actual homestead must be selected in preference to more distant tracts.

The Bill will now go to the House for Concurrence. It is predicted the House will not concur and a conference will have to be appointed to work out the differences between the two bodies. It is predicted that the conference report will not be ready to be presented to the houses before the middle of this week.

While the legislature is busily engaged in the passage of a homestead exemption bill, nevertheless the lower and upper bodies took time off to pass two resolutions, one of congratulations and one of sorrow. The first is Senate Concurrent Resolution No. 6 congratulating ex-Governor A. H. Longino upon attaining his 87th birthday.

Ex-Governor Longino was the chief executive of Mississippi when the new Capitol was constructed, and chairman of the Building Commission, which erected the building, one of the handsomest in the United States, without an intimation or a breath of scandal or corruption. In the same resolution Ex-Governor Longino was invited to address a joint session of the legislature, in the near future, Senate

Concurrent Resolution No. 9 expressed profound grief of the legislature in the death of Dr. Charles H. Herty. Dr. Herty was a scientist and it was through his achievements that the use of pine pulp in news print manufacture was made possible, thus adding materially to forwarding southern progress by utilizing in a material way one of the basic resources of our own state, and that of other southern states.

Release of the first advertisement of the Mississippi Advertising Commission's new series dealing with the chernuric resources of the state will appear in TIME magazine on August 26. Director Ed Lipscomb announces. The advertisement is scheduled to run in Nation's Business on September 1, and simultaneously in six other publications on September 8. A summary of Mississippi's chernuric resources is now in process of production and will be off the press by the release date of the first advertisement in TIME. The booklet will be mailed to all executives making inquiry in response to the new advertising program as well as to approximately 2,500 other corporation heads who have become interested in Mississippi's industrial possibilities through previous campaigns of the Commission.

Mississippi has qualified to cooperate with the Federal Government in nine of the ten services made possible through the Federal Social Security Act, according to W. F. Bond, Commissioner of the Department of Public Welfare. The one service in which Mississippi is not cooperating is that to aid dependent children. Mr. Bond states that all the state lacks to cooperate in this also, is legislation authorizing it and financial participation on the part of the state. There is now in progress of organization a Child Welfare Program in which the Federal authorities put up all the money necessary, states Mr. Bond, but it has to go for service to the children rather than money payments to needy children. This service may mean a great deal to children in counties where Boards of Supervisors are willing to cooperate as authorized under the law.

Through efforts of the Mississippi Planning Commission, L. J. Folse, Executive Director, U. S. Soil Conservation District No. 6 with headquarters in New Albany was established in 1937. This project is to be extended to the entire watershed of the Yazoo System. The government, I understand, will spend approximately two million dollars on this project in the next four years. In Mississippi there are approximately 2,988,496 acres in drainage districts, comprising 243 drainage districts, 110 of which are located in the Yazoo Mississippi Delta.

During the past eight years the Mississippi Cooperative Cotton Association has received 1,634,244 bales of cotton, the gross value of which was $55,165,983, for which they received an average price of 9.3c per pound. Twenty-five percent of this was hill cotton. The Staple Cotton Cooperative Association during the ten year period 1928-1938 received 1,994,590 bales with a gross value of $147,264,220, the average price received being 13.34c per pound. The percent of Delta cotton that was handled by the association was 30.7 percent.

The program for the needy blind will begin service by September, states W. F. Bond, Commissioner of Department of Public Welfare. The plan has been worked out with the Social Security Board. Blanks and other forms required have been printed, doctors named to make the examination under the law, and applications are now being taken. To

There is no age limit. The degree of blindness on each application must be determined by doctors appointed by the state department of Public Welfare. Needy blind should apply to their county welfare agent for full information.

E. H. White, director of Extension, state college, has recently issued the annual report of cooperative extension work in agriculture and home economics in Mississippi for 1937. He gives the following interesting statistics: In 1937, total acreage of principal crops harvested was approximately 7,500,000 acres. Production of cotton totaled 2,025,000 bales, the largest crop ever produced in Mississippi. Corn production totaled 45,378,000 bushels. Cash farm income, including government payments to Mississippi farmers in 1937 is estimated at $168,036,000. Mr. White gives much information in the seventy-page bulletin, which is beautifully illustrated, with an attractive cover showing all the different forms of extension work engaged in in Mississippi.

A total of 806,132 pine seedlings were shipped to farmers for reforestation purposes during the past planting season, according to reports released by C. O. Batson, South East Mississippi District Ranger of the State Forestry Commission. 146,000 of this amount was slash pine furnished by the Ashe Nursery operated by the Federal Government. The pro-

As a part of its intrastate program, Director Ed Lipscomb, of the Mississippi Advertising Commission, released a few days ago the first of a series of feature stories which will present a broad picture of the state and its development in all fields of endeavor. The features will be released twice monthly, are attractively illustrated. The first released deals with forestry and related industry such as lumbering, paper manufacturing and naval stores, both as to their present status and possibilities for future development.

Although there are but a few of the thin-gray line of Confederate Veterans left in Mississippi, and very few of these are physically able to attend a reunion, nevertheless they held a reunion in the cities of Aberdeen and Amory on August 8th and 9th. The legislature now in session in Senate Bill No. 29 appropriated $1,000 to defray the expenses of all Mississippi Veterans to and from the reunion, and also their expenses while in attendance at the reunion. The funds so appropriated are to be paid out on vouchers issued by the Division Commander of the Sons of Confederate Veterans, adjutant and Chief of State of same body.

The Mississippi Highway Department on August 9 held a letting which included a 16 mile paving project in Wilkinson County on U. S. Highway 61 between Woodville and Natchez, and a 9 mile grading and drainage project in Covington county between Collins and Laurel on U. S. 84. Bids were received for approximately 9 miles of paving on U. S. 45 in Clarke county between Meridian and Quitman. The estimate cost of this letting was approximately $650,000.

Report of Miss Lottie Wood, Home Demonstration Agent; O. D. Spratlin, County Superintendent of Education; Dr. T. J. Brown, County Health Officer and J. L. Cooley, Jr., County Demonstration Agent, received and approved.

Board recessed until Tuesday morning, August 2, 1938, at 9 o'clock.

The board met Tuesday, August 2, 1938 with all officers and members present.

The County Superintendent of Education submitted his report as to the School Budget for the school year 1938-1939, and it appearing that same had been filed with the Clerk of the Board and approved by the State Superintendent of Education, was ordered approved by the Board.

Attorney for the board ordered to make proper demand of City of Grenada for the sum of $1,482.40, the City's proportionate part of the salary of County Superintendent of Education for the school years 1932-1933 and to and inclusive of 1937-1938. Attorney ordered to report back to board at its next regular meeting.

Report of County Superintendent of Education as to salaries of teachers and bus drivers for school year 1937-1938 approved and ordered filed with Chancery Clerk.

By special act, approved July 26, 1938, of the Special Session of the Legislature of 1938, the Board was authorized to borrow the sum of $1,500 and donate same for the purpose of completing the Cold Storage Plant in conjunction with the Works Progress Administration; said money to be borrowed in anticipation of taxes for the years 1938 and 1939 and 1940, regardless of whether such loan exceeds 28 percent of such anticipated taxes or not. It appearing to the board that such indebtedness would not violate the constitution of the State of Mississippi and the Statutes of this state as to the amount of indebtedness Grenada county can incur; and further appearing to the board that it would be to the best interests of Grenada county to borrow this sum and donate same as authorized, accordingly ordered said sum be borrowed from the Grenada Bank and that the President of the Board execute two notes in favor of Grenada Bank in the sum of $600 each, bearing six percent interest per annum and payable on the 15th day of February of 1939 and 1940; notes to be attested by the Clerk of Board. Clerk of Board ordered to pay proceeds of loan to WPA.

Whereas, it has come to the attention of the members of the Board of Supervisors that the Grand Jury in its report to the Circuit Court criticized the Board, and that such criticism was based on the report of the State Auditing Department, filed on the 16th day of July, 1937; and,

Whereas said auditor's report reflects only the legal opinion of the auditors who compiled the same, and in fact was not justified, at least as to the whole membership of the Board; and, Whereas, the Board feels that if there were any b's in fact and in law as to the matters and things in said auditor's report and said Grand Jury report, that said Grand Jury should have acted upon the same and returned indictments; and that their failure so to do and in lieu thereof filing such report is indicative persuasive that such report was prompted by political propaganda and as such was not justified;

Therefore, be it resolved by the Board that it goes on record in protest against said report as being unfair and unwarranted and the papers of this county are requested to give publicity to this resolution to the same extent as they have to the report of the Grand Jury.

It appearing to the board that Mrs. Evans and Will Yarbrough are residents of Grenada county and that they are indigent persons and subject to pauper support by Grenada county, ordered that the sum of $16.00 be appropriated out of the General Fund, until further ordered by the board, for the maintenance of said paupers and ordered that warrant in the sum of $8.00 be issued each month in favor of Ed Parker for the benefit and use of Mrs. Evans and warrant in the sum of $8.00 be issued each month in favor of C. H. Winter for the benefit and use of Will Yarbrough.

Board recessed until Friday morning, August 5, 1938, at 9 o'clock.

Board met Friday morning, August 5, 1938 at 9 o'clock with all officers and members present, same being the last meeting of the regular August session.

Business Girls' Y. W. C. A.

Club Hold Banquet

The Business Girls' Y. W. C. A. Club, with a number of Girl Reserves present, held a banquet at the Community House Monday evening, August 8.

Miss Mollie Heath Conn, of Jackson, state head of the Girl Reserves, was the guest of honor. The club had several other guests, the sponsors of their group. Mrs. P. T. LaGrone, Mrs. Cowles Horton and Mrs. O. F. Lawrence among them. After a delicious plate served by Mrs. Spain, mother of one of the Girl Reserves, had been enjoyed, Miss Mary Elizabeth McNeill, as master of ceremonies presented the program.

Miss Emma Carl Juchheim, accompanied by Miss Virginia Echols, rendered a very lovely violin selection. Next Mrs. Gloria Parrett read a very amusing sketch. Mrs. Cecil Penn, accompanied by Miss Virginia Echols sang Rosalie in a manner, pleasing to all present.

Now Miss Mollie Heath Conn gave a splendid talk to the Business Girls. Miss Conn has just returned from a Y camp and she told some things of its activities and aims. She spoke of purposes of business women and stated how the thoughts and ideals of Americans are the thoughts and ideals of women the world over and how the Y helps toward fellowship. She stressed the fact that the Y. W. C. A. is an organization that works "with" not "for" its members. A distinction that was truly illustrative of the great work being done by this group.

Each one present could take home with her a special message and feel she can draw inspiration from such a worthwhile talk. Grenada's business girls are truly grateful to Miss Conn.

Miss McNeill announced a business meeting for August 23 and urged every member of the club to be present for it.

THE BOARD OF SUPERVISORS AND THE GRAND JURY

"Can anyone tell us why the county makes purchases of grease and oil from a foreign concern at 6 to 10 cents per pound and 25 to 50 cents per gallon higher than like products can be had from a local concern?"

This question has not been answered as we go to press, and we would still like to know.

Every man is innocent until proven guilty. Possibly certain members of the Board could explain expenditures that appear out of line, if given an opportunity, and things won't be as bad as they seem.

UNCONSTITUTIONAL "JUSTICE"

The sixth amendment of the Constitution of the United States says: "... the accused shall enjoy the right to a speedy and public trial, by an impartial jury ... and to have the assistance of counsel for his defense."

Yet, a trial examiner for the National Labor Relations Board in Ohio has barred a steel company's counsel from in charges that the company was engaged in "unfair labor practices." The attorney was barred supposedly because he insisted that his exception to a ruling be noted in the records.

We could well understand such a disbarment in other countries where court procedure has been alerted to suit the iron rule of dictators, but it is an unheard of precedent and a challenge to Constitutional government in America.

DON'T TAKE SCHOOL SAFETY FOR GRANTED

Some of the most horrible fires in American history have occurred in schools. And, unless remedied steps are taken, there is grave danger that some of the most horrible fires of the future will strike in the same place.

Surveys have shown that thousands of American school buildings are fire traps. And this doesn't simply refer to old, frame structures. That beautiful new brick edifice, built last year at a cost of a quarter-million dollars, may look safe as a storm cellar outside—and still contain fire hazards of the worst type.

Inadequate exits, doors that open inward instead of outward, improperly designed stair wells, narrow hallways down which children must pass—these are just a few of the dangers that exist in many of our schools. Amateur inspections usually fail to detect them. School safety is experts' work.

The National Board of Fire Underwriters, 65 John St., New York City, has prepared an illustrated booklet entitled, "Construction of School Buildings and Existing Structures," which will be sent on request of the proper authorities. The Board has also issued a school inspection blank, which has been used in more than 1,500 communities. Use of this blank makes it possible for school boards to thoroughly inspect a structure, and ferret out possible hazards.

Don't take it for granted that the schools your children attend are safe. Every parent should demand that school boards make expert inspections a periodic duty—and that every hazard, no matter how unimportant it may seem, be immediately corrected. That is the only 100 per cent insurance we can have against one of the most horrible human disasters.

HUMAN CONSERVATION

In a recent address, Claude W. Fairhead, General Manager of the Association of Casualty and Surety Executives, said: "In the years to come the casualty insurance industry is going to be more and more concerned with what has been its secondary function—the actual prevention of accidents and that thwarting of crimes. Upon this point I am not sure we know our own strength—yet. Certainly the services we can perform this way for business and industry, for the individual and for society, are limitless."

For many years the industry has worked toward these objectives—and now that work is being redoubled. In the field of highway safety, the casualty industry, through a central organization, is fighting a continuous and aggressive battle to educate drivers, standardize traffic codes, improve law enforcement, and make streets and highways safer by modern construction techniques. It has issued a booklet, "Creating Safer Communities," which has been distributed officially in 31 states. Its text book, "Man and the Motor Car," designed for young people, is now in active use in more than 4,000 high schools.

The industry is fighting another vital battle against the claim fraud racketeer. Through its nationwide Index Bureau System, accident repeaters are quickly identified. Full cooperation is given to police and prosecuting authorities. The result is a steady decline in accident frauds, and in fake accident rings which have been robbing the companies and their policyholders.

In other fields, such as workmen's compensation insurance, the industry is likewise working in the public interest. Safer homes, communities and industries are its watchwords. That means conservation of the most valuable of resources—human life and health.

Honored For Fifty Years Of Service

In recognition of fifty years of continuous service with the railroad, Edward H. Baker, conductor on the streamlined Green Diamond, was presented with a solid gold pass by L. A. Downs, president of the Illinois Central System, just prior to the departure of the train from Chicago on Friday, August 5th.

Mr. Baker was employed by the railroad in 1888 and made his first run as a freight brakeman from South Water Street terminal, Chicago, a half century ago at approximately the same hour as he left Chicago following the presentation ceremonies. Two years after entering the service he became a freight conductor, and in 1895 he was promoted to passenger conductor between Chicago and Centralia, Ill. For eighteen years he was trainmaster and supervisor of passenger service employees for the system, returning to service as conductor in 1930 to take a regular run between Chicago and St. Louis.

Mr. Baker, who resides in Chicago, expects to add many more years to an enviable 50-year record.

BIG TIME HAD AT GORE SPRINGS FRIDAY NIGHT

Those attending the dance held at Gore Springs last Friday night report that everybody had a good time. According to E. B. (Dink) Thompson it was the best square dance he ever attended. "The people of Gore Springs community and, in fact all of best two, are just naturally good dancers," said Dink.

Well, you can put it down, when Dink says something it's just that way. It must have really been a very entertaining event or Dink would have forgotten all about it before he got back to beat four.

About two hundred and fifty people were there to enjoy themselves, many from Grenada, and from what the Sentinel has been able to learn, everybody was sorry that their friends did not attend.

RICHARD HENRY LAKE

Lake of Denver and Donelson M. and Charles H. Lake, both of Memphis.

official representative of Governor Hugh White will be "Miss American Legion," Miss Elaine Russell, who served in the same role at the New York convention. She will convey the greetings of Governor White and Legion officials to dignitaries of the various cities and states on the route of the parade to Los Angeles.

The new and expensively decorated floats, suitable representatives of Mississippi, are now under construction with ample assurance that they will be in readiness for the scheduled departure date.

At the head of the flotilla will be a float symbolic of "peace" and the general theme selected for the national parade. Others will proclaim to audiences throughout the West the story of Mississippi in history, recreation, culture and industry.

In addition to the parade units there will be a caravan of five 40 and 8 locomotives, following an entirely different route to the West Coast. Two trains will carry five Legion bands to the national parade. The bands, selected at the recent state convention in Gulfport, are from Jackson, Clarksdale, McComb, Tupelo, and Meridian.

Film Introduces Startling Facts

No motion picture which has come to this city has excited the unusual comment as did the preview of "Damaged Lives" which was screened at the Grenada Theatre on Monday of this week. The preview was attended by two Grenada physicians, one minister, members of the nursing staff of Grenada Hospital, Superintendent of Grenada Schools, members of Parent-Teachers Association, editor The Grenada Sentinel and others. All highly endorsed the picture which will be shown to the public at Grenada Theatre Friday, August 19.

Many who came in a shocked or outraged state of mind because so delicate a topic is publicly discussed, remained to marvel at the direct and convincing manner in which "Damaged Lives" overcomes all objections. No parent would want a son or daughter over 16 to miss the important implications of this drama. Delicately yet forcefully "Damaged Lives" reveals the most vital set of facts ever woven into photography. The most caring censor is bound to admit that "Damaged Lives" must have a beneficial effect in any city where it is shown.

The thread of the story weaves through the dangers which threaten the innocent as well as the guilty, with the possible consequences to generations yet unborn. Through the personal dilemma is made to a frank discussion of the social problem. The young husband reflects his careful breeding by his ignorance of what to do in the emergency, with results which invite dire calamity. It is when the family doctor comes on the scene that the victim becomes the subject of a scientific exposition which propounds the modern view as championed by the American Social Hygiene Association. Through this medium the picture purveys its argument for a liberal attitude toward social disease on the theory that widespread knowledge is the best defense.

Many Schools To Open This Month

(By J. S. Vandiver)

Schools in several sections of the state will begin the 1938-39 season during the month of August. We suggest that parents have their children examined before school opens so that any minor defects may be corrected. This will aid materially the progress of the child in his or her school work. These examinations should be made by members of the County Health Department, of the family physician and dentist.

One of the chief aims of education is health training, and the personal health of the child. The schools and the parents should work hand-in-hand in seeing that health is properly presented to every boy and girl in the state.

There is nothing more important in the training of boys and girls than that of developing good health habits and proper attitudes with reference to health problems. For a long time the schools were reluctant to accept health work as part of their program. However, during recent years public schools of this country have designated health as one of the objectives of education, and with the cooperation of the parents much progress can be made in developing correct health habits and proper attitude along this line.

Farmers Get Better Than "Square Deal" In Fertilizer Used

Plant Food Value Received in Excess of That Guaranteed By Manufacturer, Shown By Inspection Report.

More than $38,000.00 in extra value was given to Mississippi farmers in their fertilizer purchases last year in plant food over and above the guaranteed content, according to a digest of official chemical analysis made in conformity with the state fertilizer law.

Numerous provisions are written into the law to provide protection and a square deal. Its foundation, however, is year round inspection service which provides; first, registrations of approved brands and the guarantee by the manufacturer or distributor of minimum plant food content; second, that fertilizer and fertilizer materials are inspected in stores, warehouses, freight depots, etc., and official samples taken for chemical examination; third, the chemical analysis of these samples by the State Chemist to determine whether the guarantee of the manufacturer has been actually delivered to the consumer.

The enforcement of the state subchapter there still remains a mission of Agriculture and the State Chemist, and during the year 1937 inspectors of the department made 2,984 inspections of fertilizer in all portions of the state and in all places at which fertilizer was kept, received, or offered for sale. These 2,984 inspections included 145,608 tons of fertilizer, which is nearly one-half of the 325,320 tons of fertilizer sold in Mississippi last year. These figures mean that on the average almost every other bag of fertilizer used in the state last year was examined by the inspection service.

The effectiveness of this service and the real value of fertilizer bought by farmers is determined by the chemical analysis made by the State Chemist, Dr. W. F. Hand. Last year Dr. Hand analyzed 1,494 official samples of fertilizer. Of these only 35 samples were deficient, while 1,459 samples equalled or exceeded the manufacturer's guarantee.

The record is even better than these figures indicate," commented J. C. Holton, commissioner of agriculture. "The deficient samples were deficient to the extent of $716.90. The samples that were not deficient not only delivered the value of plant food guaranteed by the manufacturers, but delivered, in addition, a net surplus of $39,181.27; and when the deficiency is subtracted there still remains a net extra value of $38,474.37."

MISSISSIPPI WEEKLY COTTON INSECT REPORT

State College, Miss., Aug. 10.—Continued showers during the past week made conditions very favorable for cotton insect damage in most sections of Mississippi. Examinations by State Plant Board inspectors in various parts of the state showed that nearly all squares are now being punctured by weevils in most old cotton with weevils rapidly becoming numerous in late fields. For this reason, no average is reported this week, as it would be high or low, depending on the kind of cotton examined.

The weevil infestation, according to Clay Lyle, Entomologist of the Board, has now reached a stage where it is difficult to make general recommendations, as such field may present a different situation. Weevils are migrating in large numbers to the younger cotton, and several poison applications about four days apart seem advisable under such conditions. In some cases, migration has been so heavy as to cause farmers to doubt they were getting results from the poison. Examinations should be made two or three days after each application to see whether additional ones are needed, says Dr. Lyle. In most old cotton, it is believed there will be enough squares left for egg-laying to protect small bolls until they are too hard to be damaged. For this reason, poisoning is not being advised on most older cotton unless it becomes necessary to prevent damage by leaf-worms. Leafworms are generally distributed over the state, but no damage has yet been reported, and farmers are advised to delay poisoning until the worms become numerous. Moths have been emerging during the past week, and another generation of worms will appear in a few days.

Lice are present in many fields, that have been poisoned, and in cases where both weevils and lice are causing damage, the Board advises dusting with a mixture of 9% pounds hydrated lime, 9% pounds calcium arsenate, and one pound of nicotine sulphate, making the application when the plants are dry and preferably when the air is still. Directions for mixing this dust may be secured from the State Plant Board at State College.

Washington, D. C., Aug. 10.—The best "gag" of the week—as they would say in the City of New York—is Representative Samuel B. Pettengill's (Dem. Ind.) blast in defense of his New York colleague Representative John J. O'Connor.

"Do you want Charlie McCarthy as your congressman of John J. O'Connor?" queried Mr. Sam. Of course, we weren't aware that the dummy was running, but if he is, the voter should be given time to weigh the matter before he answers the Honorable S. B. Pettengill.

As a matter of fact Charlie has one advantage over O'Connor that we can see. The dummy only speaks when wires are pulled then lapses into silence. We can't say as much for any congressman.

According to the society of motion picture engineers, Washington, D. C., now ranks second only to Hollywood in the production of films—most of which are educational projects. This is one New Deal undertaking most people will approve of.

When Henry Ford accepted the grand cross of the German Eagle from Adolf Hitler he became the first American to receive this "high honor" from the chief enemy of Democracy. Democracy which made Ford's amazing rise possible.

How to explain it? We can only surmise. Hitler stands for many things that are anathema to Ford. In the Germany of today a Ford would be an absolute impossibility. A German industrialist who dared to fight the Hitler program as Ford did the N. R. A. would be lined up against the wall or at least put in one of the Fuehrer's concentration camps for life, his property confiscated and his name added to the list of "enemies of the country."

We can only fathom Ford's acceptance of the dubious honor to emotion. In fairness to Henry Ford one must realize that he has been a staunch American his life long. But then again, while most men are as dextrous as 75 as they were at 60, the Detroitier may not be as most men. A genius usually is not.

Fifty million commentators can't be wrong, and all of them testify to an early upturn in business. There are fifty million reasons given for new optimism, and fifty million guesses as to how much improvement is coming, when it comes, but these are small matters compared to the main point, nobody really knows, beyond a doubt, precisely what caused the recession of the past twelve months. "The problems of restoring purchasing power and reviving enterprise and capital investment are almost incomprehensibly complex," as a bank observer in its current bulletin. We imagine that if the bank's writer were asked why the qualifying word "almost" he would say "strike it out."

"Behind The Scenes In American Business"

—By John Craddock—

New York, Aug. 8.—BUSINESS—Construction of small homes is setting the pace for other industries in the general recovery movement which continues unabated, according to reports from many parts of the country. The Federal Housing Administration reported a 100 percent gain in mortgages selected for appraisal in July over the month last year. Meanwhile, America's mills and factories registered an estimated five percent increase in production activity for July compared with the previous month. Usually there is a decline during July and August from spring levels. Enthusiastic approval last week of a "great national retail demonstration" by members of the National Retail Dry Goods Association assures a forthcoming event which should be of great interest to consumers. The retail industry, third largest in the nation with annual sales volume of 40 billion dollars and employing 3,500,000 persons, will set aside one week in September for stores all over the nation to unite in dressing up for public inspection.

WASHINGTON — About this time of year merchants and jobbers in every section of the country take inventory of goods on hand, and scan the business skies for possible signs of how much stock they should lay in for fall and winter trade. The U. S. Department of Commerce here, following the same procedure, has just issued its mid-year report on consumer's goods inventories. The report says that stocks on hand have returned to normal. The large quantity of merchandise which accumulated during the latter part of 1936 and early 1937, says the report, has been gradually liquidated. Pointing out that retail sales during the first six months of this year were about 15 percent under those for the same period of 1937, and about five per cent below 1936, the report concludes that this trend seems to have run its course, and that a continued improvement in sales is in prospect.

WAR SCARE — Hoarding of gold on a widespread scale has cropped out again in Europe where there is general demonstration of sentiment as a result of the new Far Eastern crisis. Should Russia and Japan go to war, it is felt that Hitler might consider it an opportune moment to press his ambitions in the rich agricultural land of Ukraine, now a part of the Soviet Empire. Competent American and English observers, however, are guessing that the threatened Russo-Japanese conflict will not go beyond the present border sniping stage. They point out that stalwart China at the expense of

Value of Producing Sufficient Pork

State College, Miss., Aug. 10.—The value and satisfaction of producing and curing sufficient pork on the farm to supply family needs is emphasized by Paul F. Newell, extension animal husbandman.

Newell states that pork products used by the average family, if purchased at retail prices, would cost from $90 to $100, or approximately 20 percent of the average annual cash farm income in Mississippi.

Pork produced for home use on the farm may be charged at what it costs, while, if purchased, the products might have to be bought at high prices. Such a practice is not in keeping with good farming, observes Newell.

Hog production for supplying farm meat requirements is more nearly adapted to all farms than any other animal husbandry enterprise. Pork and other animal products and vegetables and fruits that can be grown in all areas of the state will supplement the family food budget each year and improve living standards, both by saving accomplished and by more adequate nutrition.

Consumption of pork products in the state is in excess of our production of hogs.

Any hog production program must be supported by adequate feed and pasture requirements. The budgeting of 125 to 150 bush-much suffering and hardship among its civilian population has very much weakened Japan during a year of stubborn resistance to conquest, Japan, therefore, is believed to be afraid to take an another adversary at this time in view of her increasingly unstable economy status at home and prospect of continued determined resistance by the Chinese.

THINGS TO WATCH FOR—A "draftless fan" which stands on the floor and draws in cool air at approximately floor level, shooting it up toward the ceiling in a perpendicular column. A collapsible fish net, which snaps open like an umbrella, to lift fish out of the water. An electric bulb which gives off perfume or medical vapors; the light bulb is thinly coated with clay or alabaster, in which the perfume or medication is absorbed. Cakes made soap; such a small quantity is added to the baking mixture that it does not affect the flavor, but makes the cake lighter and fluffier.

NEWS FOR HOMEOWNERS—The modern trend in home building is toward insulation; walls are protected against heat and cold, ceilings and basements against frost, dirt and seepage. Latest development in the field is "window conditioning" which architects and engineers claim is the most vital insulation of them all. Installing double sash or storm-windows is reported to effect a greater dollars and cents saving to the homeowner than any other type of insulation. Tests conducted by Prof. G. L. Larson, of the University of Wisconsin, show that in the average home which is not "window conditioned" one out of every four shovels of coal goes out the window instead of in the furnace. The tests also reveal that the cost of double glazing or "window conditioning" is repaid within two years through furnace fuel savings.

HEADLINES IN NEW YORK—America's 1938 wool clip placed at 368,528,000 pounds, 2,000,000 above 1937. Aircraft earnings: United Aircraft second quarter net income 53 cents a share compared with 39 cents a year ago, Curtiss-Wright nets $2,181,862 in first half of 1938 compared with $900,597 in 1937 period. Celanese Corp. of America has net income of $1,567,445 in year ended June 30 against $4,461,227 last year. August home furnishings sales off to good start. Steel production gains 7.6 per cent to a new 1938 high. Utility holding companies get SEC order to file plans for integration and corporate simplification by Dec. 1. July sales of three auto manufacturers show improvement.

els of corn, 2 acres soybeans, 2 acres of rape or rye and permanent pasture, 400 pounds of cottonseed meal and 400 pounds of tankage or its equivalent in skim-milk for each brood sow and her two litters carried to slaughter weights indicate necessary variety in the feeds required and the nutritional adequacy so necessary for profitable production. March farrowed pigs are ordinarily best for use in growing farm supply of pork. They can be grown and finished to about 200 pounds in from 6 to 10 months and will be ready for curing during the most suitable hog killing weather. Fall farrowed pigs are more often used for spring finishing and sale.

Industry Migrates

When taxes become oppressive capital migrates from country to country or from State to State where more equitable levies are collected. For example, recent reports from the State of Pennsylvania towns are losing textile factories which are migrating to the South primarily because of high taxes and high labor costs. These factories, it is stated, employ a total of 4,000 workers with an annual payroll of between $3 and $4 million dollars. Thus a hint is provided as to how communities may suffer when arbitrarily high taxes are levied.

FARM AND HOME WEEK AT STATE COLLEGE

Miss Lottie Wood, Martha McCormack, Kathryn Williams and I arrived at the Y. M. C. A. building at 11 o'clock. There we were met by Mrs. Rose, Mrs. Jurden and Mrs. Barkley Coats from other clubs of our county. From there we all went to the college auditorium—Lee Hall, to register and get keys for our rooms. While there we attended a chapel exercise where we heard a discussion on milk, an indispensable food, by Dr. Marietta Eichelberger, director of Evaporated Milk Association, Chicago.

After chapel we went to the cafeteria for dinner, which is a very pretty building and the eats were wonderful. So you can imagine the amount we ate after a long ride that morning. After eating we carried our bags to our rooms where we rested in preparation for a busy afternoon.

At two o'clock we assembled at the biology building to listen to some interesting talks on the following subjects:

Grapes in the Home Orchard by C. H. Ragland.

Round Table Discussion on Insect pests and discussion by Clay Lyle.

We also made a visit to the Engineering building to view 4-H club exhibits.

After supper we gathered at Lee Hall where we enjoyed a program directed by Ouida Midkiff, which consisted of community singing, review street dances, sheer drestion, old costumes, folk dances and choral numbers. This was a very interesting and instructive program.

On Wednesday morning we visited several of the buildings and departments on the campus. In the afternoon we attended a garden party and folk dances on the lawn in front of Montgomery Hall, which we enjoyed very much. At 8 o'clock in the cafeteria we attended the Grand March, Folk songs and dances by county groups and an old square dance for those who cared to dance.

Thursday morning we were about run down. Some of our Grenada county folks were so jolly they kept us awake until about two o'clock in the morning, although we had lots of fun. We were so tired out Thursday morning that we only attended a clothing meeting by Ouida Midkiff, which consisted of:

The Ideal Woman — Dress, Grooming, Personality. We enjoyed this very much.

To the members of the Gore Springs Home Demonstration Club: I certainly did enjoy and appreciate the trip and truly hope that each and every one of you can have the same pleasure in the future.

Mrs. Roy Chamberlain.

Four Grenadians At Mississippi College

Mississippi College, Clinton, Aug. 11.—(Special)—A recent check of last season's enrollment at Mississippi College shows sixty-six Mississippi counties, fourteen other states, and the District of Columbia represented in the student body. The states other than Mississippi include Alabama, Florida, Georgia, Illinois, Kentucky, Louisiana, Maryland, Minnesota, Missouri, New York, North Carolina, Tennessee, Texas, and Virginia. Tennessee led with twelve students. In Mississippi, Hinds county led with eighty-two students.

Grenada county was represented by four students: Jesse Lowe Henderson, James Wesley Lippencott, Lucien Cline Proby, and James Clinton Prose, all of Grenada.

Henderson, the only senior, was graduated in June, receiving the bachelor of arts degree with distinction. He expects to teach and direct music the coming season. He was a member of the college band and in various other activities. He had the distinction also, with his room-mate, of winning the $5.00 prize offered each year for the nearest and best kept room in the college dormitories.

Proby and Prose were also members of the college band, and Lippencott was a member of the glee club. All of these boys participated in a number of the college activities.

Ruth Anderson, who is attending the summer school, will be awarded the bachelor of arts degree at the summer commencement on August 10.
